Preface

"...Presenting Turlock High's 1950 model ALERT, a combination of inspiration, rewrites, tents, over one hundred-fifty pages, and splendid portraits of me

- Butch Bulldog

And now, since Butch has presented his highly prejudiced description of this year's ALERT, we'd like to formally introduce him as the pup who recorded, for your convenience, the year's happenings at Turlock High

For our theme, we have tried to present the school and its activities as they have appeared to the students and faculty throughout the year

We now leave you in the hands of Butch Bulldog, who will conduct you through the remainder of the book

Message to Seniors

No man can tell whether he is rich or poor according to his ledger. It is the heart that makes a man rich. He is rich according to what he has not according to what he has.

—Henry Ward Beecher

We hope our students will graduate not only with intellectual interest in life but with a philosophy which embodies those words that have been Clarion Calls to many generations—Love, Justice, Courage, Self Mastery, Mercy. These attributes do not occur without cultivation.

I suggest that you

Commit the Past to the Past and strive for a greater Spirit.

Real progress in the future.

Cultivate a character too Noble to cherish petty resentments.

Strengthen the ties that bind you to your community.

Strive to make a contribution to human happiness so that it can never be said that you lived in vain.

History

From the pages of history come romance, adventure, drama—or a headache, depending upon the teacher. This group of instructors are artists when it comes to painting the scenes of the past.

Miss Sophia Dinsdale has seen our campus grow and develop since 1922 when she joined the faculty. At present she is advisor chairman to the Junior class and teacher of History II.

Cal alumni Mr. Archie V. Lundgren also teaches world history. In his class as a sophomore, I could almost see Julius Caesar, Socrates and all the rest.

Miss Helen Hohenthal, history department head, has more worries than just teaching. She has charge of all our audio-visual aids besides advising the Freshman class.

Mr. Vincent Keesey, a Pennsylvania scholar, teaches Juniors and Seniors their history and civics. In his "spare" time he is an advisor to the Junior Statesmen.

Jack-of-all-trades Mr. George Marks produces Turlock's tennis teams, counsels the Junior boys, handles office routine, and teaches Junior history. He is a College of the Pacific graduate.

Mr. Franklin Youngborg, a Stanford man, pounds civics into the heads of his Seniors. During quieter moments, he advises the Junior Statesmen, the student body president and the Executive Committee.

Physical Education

Teachers lead an open life probably because of the emphasis placed on sports.

Line Coach Armand Seghetti, the guy we can thank for this year's most outstanding Sac-Joaquin line, has taught here since 1933, except for a stint during the war. Besides this responsibility, Mr. Seghetti teaches History II.

Mr. Charlie Cooke, a graduate of C. O. P., coaches Bee basketball, baseball, and Cee football and basketball, as well as teaching Freshman Math. Mr. Cooke held the position of assistant football coach at C. O. P. before coming to Turlock.

Miss Wanda Rae Zimmer and Miss Marilyn Casstevens have taught two years of girls P. E. here at Turlock since graduating from San Jose State. They both act as advisors to the G. A. A. and Girls Block T Society.

Mr. David Weise, our Varsity basketball coach, starts early in the fall with the Bee football team. An alumni of the Universities of Illinois and Southern California, Mr. Weise has coached in the Midwest as well as working in the DuPont Atomic Plant.

Mr. Joseph Debely, head of the Physical Education department, has won fame throughout Northern California for his invaluable coaching. The result: Turlock's championship football teams.

Library

At the library, the students are busy with their books. The library is a place where they can find all the books they need for their studies. The students are very interested in reading and they spend a lot of time in the library. The library is a very important part of the school and it is a place where the students can learn a lot of things.

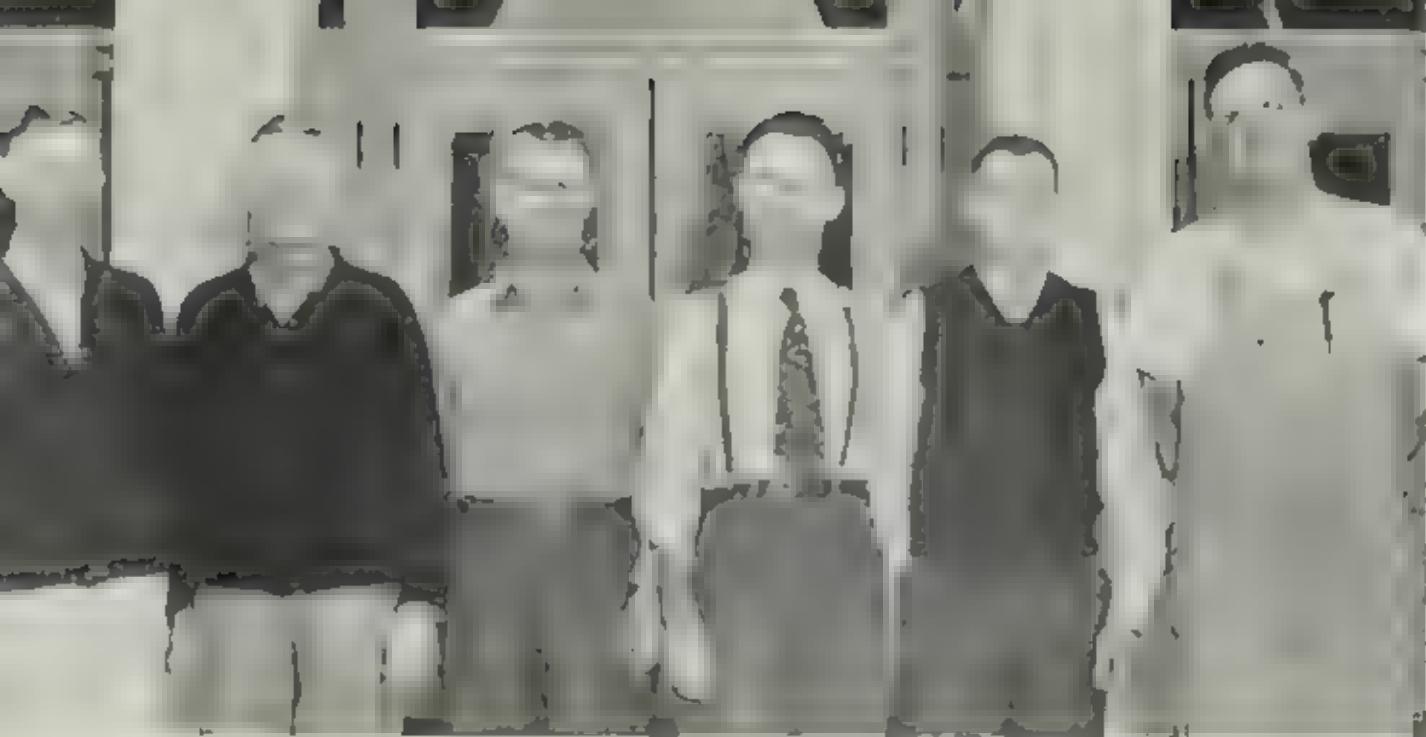

Our Science

In the science class, the students are learning about the world around them. They are studying the different parts of the world and how they are connected. The students are very interested in science and they spend a lot of time in the science class. The science class is a very important part of the school and it is a place where the students can learn a lot of things.

Commercial

In the commercial class, the students are learning about the business world. They are studying the different types of businesses and how they operate. The students are very interested in the commercial world and they spend a lot of time in the commercial class. The commercial class is a very important part of the school and it is a place where the students can learn a lot of things.

"He who knows and knows not that he knows, he is asleep; wake him"

Another thing that I remember about my high school years is that I was always very much minded that I was a student and not a worker. I was always a student and not a worker.

The final event of the year at the University of the Pacific was "The Waterway to Enchantment". I naturally took my aul. Poochie. I was wide awake on this one.

As Freshmen, they spend their time learning what goes on at this great institution. In the Sophomore year they begin to get they really start clicking for office and wear out their hands and importance. And Seniors be had after all.

I will have to admit that the Juniors do have a good deal. They've gone through the they've "arrived", socially, and they aren't regretting having to leave school like the seniors.

News Sleuths, Inc.,

The first of the year's most important news events, the annual meeting of the News Sleuths, Inc., was held on Monday, January 15, 1968, at the Hotel New York. The meeting was presided over by the President, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, and the Vice President, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover.

At the meeting, the members of the News Sleuths, Inc., were informed of the results of the election of the new President and Vice President. The President, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, was re-elected for a second term. The Vice President, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, was also re-elected for a second term. The members of the News Sleuths, Inc., were also informed of the results of the election of the new Secretary and Treasurer.

It's not the Philharmonic

It's not even the Modesto Symphony. It's our own little orchestra here at Turlock High. If we merit it by size, it doesn't seem like much, but if we rank it by accomplishment, it will always stand out in our minds. It's time we realize, I think, that this group is very important to the success of the programs they've helped put on. This year alone they've added their support to the Homecoming Play, Pageant, Lincoln Day Assembly, Senior Concert, Graduation and Baccalaureate.

Since it is composed of some of the best musicians in school, the Orchestra has sent many members to show off their talents at the Modesto Symphony and various other places.

To tell you the truth, I once tried to play those things called the cello, but Mr. Winters decided that I should stick to sports.

This year's band members

Look back with nostalgia at the fun on trips and pride at the recognition brought to our school by the last chair of the trumpet section, I enthusiastic drummers breaking drum—Maurice Vasconcellos and company making "Line Up" echoing from marching band—o's the dirty guy that stole my and those water guns—ugh added a new personality to our school. At this reinforcement, THS couldn't win top honors again at the Music Festival. A big event in our school year was the Spring Concert, where we tried to live up to school's reputation. I wasn't built for it, as my mother once remarked, "I step but my Butch!" In spite of this, it added a colorful touch to football games

"Growing Pains"

As is common to us all, the all school play last year's play told of the adventures of a young man named George. George's Darling came to town. All the boys immediately fell in love with her, whether they were going or not. George had to bring the little neighbor girl. Prudence took turns necking with the different boys. Terry ruined her chance and the party ended with all the guys at the police station.

The play turned out all right. Terry and father had a better understanding of their children's lives.

I know that the pains I suffer from toothache are where its due. The cast must be commended for their wonderful support. They were George Conant, Ieri Barnmore, Eadie Van, t Hardin, Deolinda George, Lila, rdson, Joselyn Harden, Harwood.

Girls

Just have to worry about boys. They always try to keep up with those fast-charging love letters, but if they attend Turlock High, they belong to the Girl's League.

This year the Girls League brightened the halls? For the last 23 years the girls have been making the school a better place, but this year the trail set could wear of any. It doesn't seem like much, but to the girls it's about the best thing that could happen.

At Christmas time the Girl's League contributed a box of gifts to the Navajo Indians. The box included such things as a foot. I didn't attend any, I heard those fashion and tea assemblies for mothers. pretty good.

Assemblies

Were planned by the small, but very efficient assembly committee. Among the many assemblies this year were the "Mississippians", "Royal Mount", Colonel Horsefield, Mr. Conradine the Shakespearean actor, and the assembly for the Blind.

The best efforts of the assembly committee, however, were displayed in the production of two wonderful student talent assemblies.

Boys

Never did I see a group of boys dance like the boys of the Oakdale all.

On the night of the dance, the boys were well out of their minds. The Oakdale dance was a great success.

I am a little bit of a dancer. And these sports boys are the same in person.

Scholastically Inclined

The student body of the school is a group of individuals who are scholastically inclined. They are students who are interested in learning and who are dedicated to their studies. They are students who are motivated and who are committed to their education. They are students who are hardworking and who are determined to succeed. They are students who are responsible and who are reliable. They are students who are respectful and who are courteous. They are students who are kind and who are helpful. They are students who are honest and who are trustworthy. They are students who are brave and who are confident. They are students who are resilient and who are persistent. They are students who are optimistic and who are positive. They are students who are grateful and who are appreciative. They are students who are humble and who are modest. They are students who are generous and who are giving. They are students who are compassionate and who are caring. They are students who are empathetic and who are understanding. They are students who are tolerant and who are accepting. They are students who are open-minded and who are flexible. They are students who are adaptable and who are resilient. They are students who are resourceful and who are creative. They are students who are innovative and who are original. They are students who are visionary and who are forward-thinking. They are students who are leaders and who are influencers. They are students who are role models and who are examples. They are students who are achievers and who are success stories. They are students who are future leaders and who are future innovators. They are students who are future scholars and who are future researchers. They are students who are future professionals and who are future entrepreneurs. They are students who are future citizens and who are future leaders of the world.

Agriculture as a class

Let the boys be vegetarians. The FFA is really pull it together, besides learning the things some of them had never heard of and doing some things on crops and livestock. The plutocrats of Texas High School had some very good ideas and some of them too including a winter snow trip at Yosemite.

Besides all this, several of the boys won purebred heifers in different contests, both inter and extra. Manuel Alvarez won the first prize in the county fair and John McLaughlin a heifer at the county fair. They topped off a grand year of work and fun the following year at Aggie Picnic Day.

The "boys" cleared over a hundred dollars for the Turlock High School, even though many of them were away from home. They went to the Alameda Hotel, where they had a party and made a little more money. In the way of entertainment, they had a party at the plunge this spring. Gee, the water was really sweet.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

For the purpose of the present study, the following hypotheses were proposed: the teams that were assigned to the training program would (a) demonstrate a significant increase in the number of correct responses, (b) demonstrate a significant decrease in the number of incorrect responses, and (c) demonstrate a significant decrease in the number of omissions.

Over the hurdles

The Turlock High track team has come a long way since we gave their opponents a rough time, losing only to Modesto in combination. In the 100 yard hurdles, our Varsity and Cees were badly defeated by their arch rivals, the Modesto Panthers. The Bees were barely beaten.

Consistent point winners for the Bees were Marice Atkinson and Dick Monteith, hurdles, Verne Thornburg and Gilbert Boraes, mile and Jim Jerner, shot put. Jim Conover, high jump and pole vault. A new school record was set by Marice "Speed" Atkinson in the 180 yard low hurdles with a time of 20.3.

Several records were broken by the Bees as Geo. [unclear] set new marks of 14.2 in the 120 yard low hurdles, 18.3 in the 160 yard low hurdles and tied the high jump record with a leap of 5'9". Ken Falkenburg set a new record in the 10 pound shot put with a heave of 48' 4", while Joe Meutrens distinguished himself by breezing the 440 yard track in 52.1 seconds for a new 440 record.

It's fun to struggle with chop sticks as Anabell and Lila learned while eating that terrific Chinese food at the TEA GARDEN. Ask to try them the next time you eat there. Everyone enjoys the variety of exotic dishes served there.

Whether you are newly weds looking for those indispensable refrigerators, ranges, and washers, or a jitterbug on the prowl for a phonograph, JULIENS is the answer. You'll find the best brands there.

Put your best foot forward" with shoes from COEY'S. This family shoe store has shoes to fit every occasion as well as your pocketbook

LARSON'S prescribes the way to look your sweater best. Here is evidence that the prescription works with Barbara Fernandes wearing her favorite cashmere bought there

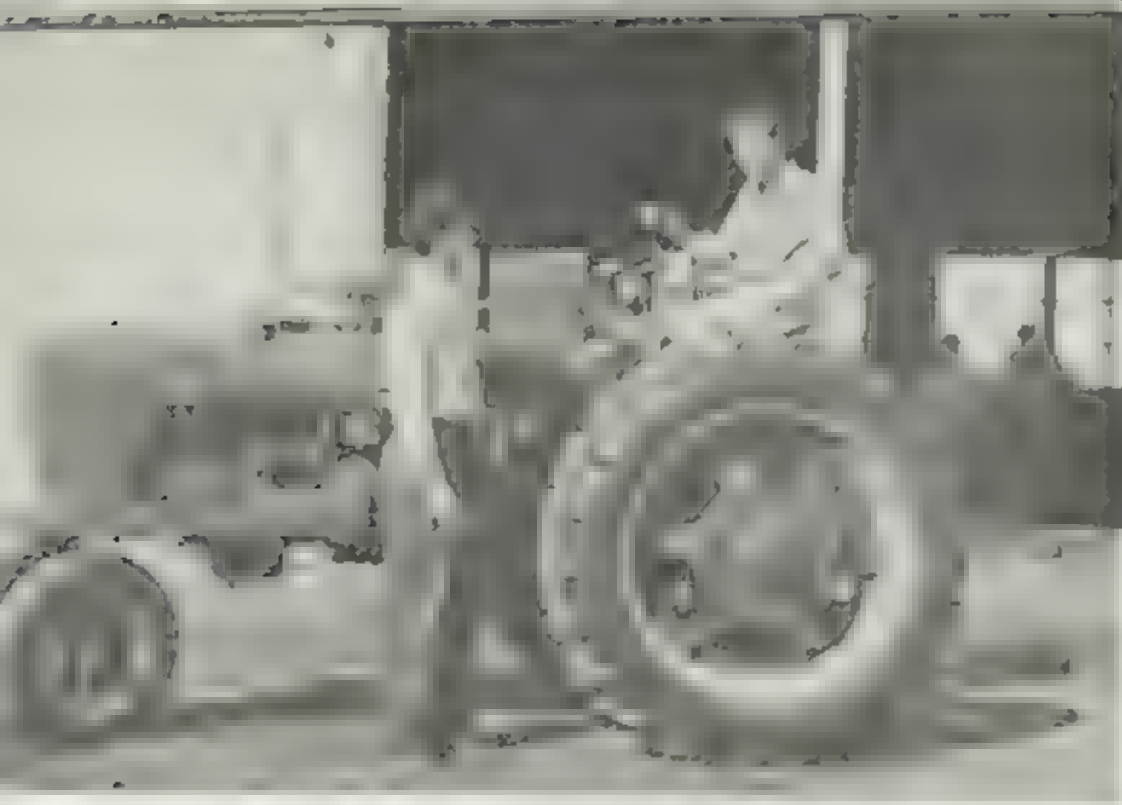

The new HUDSON is your dream come true—abundant room, powerful performance and long sleek lines. Hallmark gives you real value for your money. The T.H.S. yell leaders are the lucky ones with the new car.

Delbert and Elva "get lost" in the WIGWAM with a delicious soda. Recent smoke signals tell us that smart braves are taking their young squaws here these days. Not much wampum either.

Whether you're a long hair or a butch head, you'll find that the work done at the HUB will suit you to a "T". Professional service and friendly atmosphere make your haircut at the Hub a pleasure.

"Zeke" Freeman's first desire is to own one of these sleek babies from SCANLONS. He has just convinced "Luke" Oberkamper that Farmall's low cost power leads the field.

Clothes can't completely make the man but clothes of good quality can give you the neat confident look so essential for success. The fine fabrics and expert tailoring in suits found at the TOGGERY are definite assets in looking your best. Just ask Duane Huntly or Bill Gilbert

It's the little things in life that are so essential. The wellstocked shelves of SPROUSE REITZ'S recently remodeled establishment combine variety and economy for the high school shopper.

Off to college, Shirley and Norma have added the final touch with neat Samsonite luggage from MERCANTILE'S. Your trips will be enhanced with one of these carried by Mercantile's.

You'll look small, too, sitting behind one of those "huge" sodas from MOWRERS. Their specialties are always big. The happy lad? None other than Fred Beatty.

Delores lends a hand to Sally at the SEWING CENTER, where you can get the help of experts on any dress creation. A knitting "center" as well, you'll find the Sewing Center the answer to all your sewing problems.

Eight cylinders of dynamite coupled with the silkiness of dynaflo drive make this years, BUICK the sweetheart of the highways. "Luxury Unexcelled" is the only phrase to describe this Roadmaster.

Mr. Cobeen points out the fine features of the FIRESTONE tire to Ed, who now knows that Firestone tires are the best. This Firestone Store carries sport equipment as well as many electrical appliances for the home.

A lingering "good night." Whether your pleasure is dancing, walking, driving, or just enjoying a movie, you'll have a better night if you're wearing BOB BRETT shoes.

There's no place like HENDY'S DRIVE INN when it comes to delicious food and congenial atmosphere. Proving this point is a pleasure for "Romeo" Monteith and all of his "Tulists".

That cool fresh look is easy, as Shirley and Jeri have found, when you choose casual cotton dresses from the JEWEL SHOP. Round the clock attire for all season's wear is carried at the Jewel Shop.

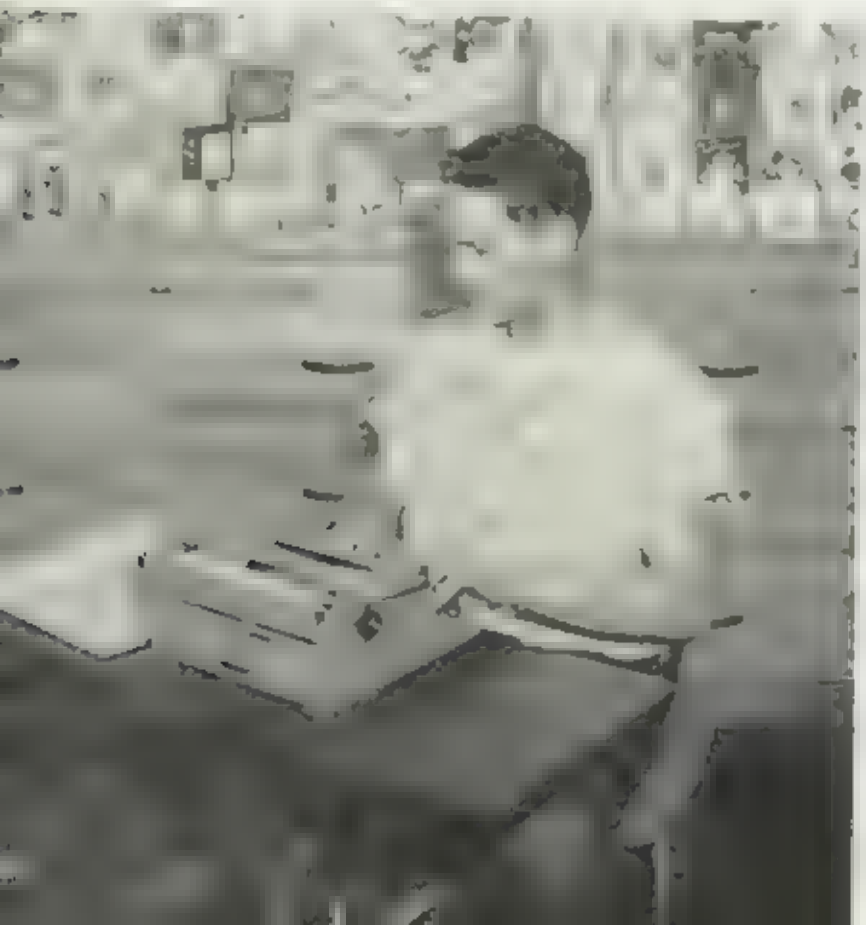

Years of experience in the clothing business have given Mr. Gibson the ability to fit the individual's personality. As a result Don Bergstrom is another pleased customer at LUNDAHL'S clothing store.

Dixie starts her marriage out the right way by buying a Bendix from the TURLOCK HARDWARE. The modern wife saves herself extra work with an automatic washer that's kind to clothes and mean to dirt.

To get your homework done the right way do as Bob Harwood does, buy your typewriter at LEE BROTHER'S, where they carry a large selection of office and school supplies. You can be sure you'll get the best at Lee Brothers.

If you want to be "One of the Boys", go to SCHNIEDER'S, where you can buy dress clothes as well as sharp, sport clothes. These boys are well satisfied with their choice of clothes

With sports first in the minds of every boy, the TURLOCK SPORT SHOP offers fine bargains in every type of sport equipment. Rollin explains the merits of a fine deer rifle to big game hunters, Fred and Bob.

Being out of the high rent district enables the WEST MAIN MARKET to sell groceries at a consistently low price. Karin and Peggy have found that this market combines the friendliness of the neighborhood market with the convenience of one-stop shopping

To the seniors, underclassmen, and faculty of Turlock High, we say, "thank you for your splendid cooperation."

We are always eager to serve you individually or as a group. You are cordially invited to come in and see us for any of your photographic needs. The quality of our work may be seen in the senior portraits.

"He who is served and acknowledges not that he is served, he is dead; bury him"

"Well, thank heaven it's over," sighed Don Leighton as he stooped to retrieve his napkin from the brightly polished floor of Fusco's Castle. It was the night of the Alert Farewell Banquet, but there were no tears or sad hearts at the table.

"Yes, it was a good year, but I'm glad it's over, too," returned Bob Cooper. "I've shot so many flash bulbs, I'm beginning to see spots before my eyes." He glared at the polka dot shirt on the person of fellow photographer, Jim Freeman. Jim smiled fendishly, pulled a camera from his pocket and snapped Bob's picture. With an agonized moan, Bob slid under the table.

"Your napkin is over here, Don," came the quiet voice of Joan Carson after watching him search the floor, his eyes dark and sleepy. "I'm glad the rush hasn't bothered me," she went on, pouring her soup into her coffee cup.

"Speaking of rush, Harder's Print Shop has sure had to, to close that final deadline," put in Peggy Harvill.

"Don't I know it," interrupted Leon Oberkamper, copy editor.

"Talk about co-operation," said Cooper, clambering back into his chair, "and you talk about Walter's Studio. They gave us equipment, they developed our pictures, they gave us advice, and they turned out top notch work despite prolonged sickness and deaths in the family."

"Yeah, they're a great outfit," agreed Jack Claes. "The California Art and Engraving Company did all right where Walter's left off, too. The engravings did justice to every picture printed."

"That's cause we had a good contact man, Marvin Gilardy," said Peggy over her third helping of ravioli.

"It helped a lot," admitted Jack.

"Yeah, and you can thank my cows, too," burst in Ed McCombs.

"What did your cows do?" asked Janet Berger, her curiosity getting the better of her.

"You know all those creative inspirations on the sports' pages?" inquired Ed.

"What about them?" asked Don Bothun.

"Got 'em making cows," announced Ed with a proud look in his eye.

"I think the whole mess of you belong in an institution," popped co-editor Carson.

"Well, Shelton will submit to a cell only if it's padded," said Leon. "Remember how he held out for a padded book cover against the whole class?"

"It looks good padded, too. Wonder if S. K. Smith and Company can put up nice unpadded covers?" pondered Roberta Francine.

"If they could put up with us they could put up with anything," squealed Janet Berger, laughing hysterically at her pun.

"Oh, murder," groaned McCombs.

"Please don't speak of murder," bellowed Shelton. "It reminds me of the looks I used to get from the faculty."

"Oh, take it easy. The faculty took a lot from us. Kids were tracking in and out of class all the time. I bet they could have hit us over the head," defended Leighton.

"What do you mean, could have?" asked Shelton, counting the stitches above his eye.

"It was worth it anyway," put in Wade Berry.

"Yes, and we've had a lot of smart advertisers this year. They're going to be a happy bunch of advertisers before they know it," prompted Roberta Francine.

"Say, were we forgetting something," interrupted Joan. "What about the two M's and the W?"

"Oh, yes, Money, Murray, and Wellander," said Leighton.

"Speech!" shouted Ed.

"Hey," whispered Janet, "did Mr. Wellander say the Alert was a mark to posterity or a mark on our popularity?"

"Don't know," returned Don Bothun.

"Look out, here comes Murray's speech," moaned Bob Cooper.

As Mr. Murray droned on, his listeners slept. They dreamed of the agony of production and the glory of a completed job, of all the people who co-operated to make both the year and the Alert a success.
